Dear Ms Slinn,

Report of Food Hygiene Inspection

Your Inspection

I write to confirm the details of my inspection of the above premises on 28 March 2017 when I met yourself. . The purpose of my visit was to assess your compliance with food safety (and health and safety) legislation. Please find attached a copy of the report which outlines our findings and provides you with your food hygiene rating score.

I can confirm that no contraventions of legislation were found to exist at the time of the visit.

I was pleased to note that the standards currently being achieved are well above average for this type of business. You are to be congratulated and I trust these high standards will be maintained.

Your Hygiene Rating Score

This authority operates the National Food Hygiene Rating System (NFHRS) alongside the local website, www.ratemyplace.org.uk, which not only provides details of your hygiene rating score but also provides the information which we know local customers want and find useful, particularly inspection reports and in the future menus and photographs of your business.

Both are designed to help customers choose where to eat out or shop for food by giving them information about the hygiene standards in food outlets at the time they are inspected to check compliance with legal requirements. Details of how the NFHRS ratings are calculated can be seen in the News section at the end of this letter.

Your Food Hygiene Rating based on our inspection is;

(an overview of how this score is calculated can be seen in the attached inspection report)

If you think that the rating is incorrect or unfair – in other words it does not reflect the hygiene standards at the time of your inspection – you have 21 days (including weekends and bank holidays), in which you can appeal against this before it is made public in the NFHRS and ratemyplace.
